They will include the real life experiences of counties, cities, villages, townships and other organizations just like yours and give you valuable connections to State and Federal resources available to all levels of government.

The generous conference facilities allow GIS service vendors to occupy the central hall display area throughout the duration of the conference. Professionals from counties, cities and other local government from all across the spectrum of GIS experience and expertise will be on hand for networking opportunities and to share some of their experiences.

Do you want to show your GIS successes or market your product or services? Let us know when you register!
